

Sol-gel chemistry offers a flexible approach to obtaining a diverse range of materials. It allows differing chemistries to be achieved as well as offering the ability to produce a wide range of nano-/micro-structures.

Sol-gel based materials for biomedical applications

This paper considers the use of a problem-based learning (PBL)-based tutorial methodology using a robotic testbed exercise using several honours degree and taught postgraduate cohorts pursuing various electronic engineering programs at the University of Limerick, Ireland.

A comparison of problem-based and didactic learning

Chemical biology is a scientific discipline spanning the fields of chemistry and biology. The discipline involves the application of chemical techniques, analysis, and often small molecules produced through synthetic chemistry, to the study and manipulation of biological systems. In contrast to biochemistry, which involves the study of the chemistry of biomolecules and regulation of biochemical ...
